COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

SATURDAY EVENING, DEC. 10.

THE Cotton market here to-day is quiet and little doing, but prices are unaltered. Yesterday's Liverpool market, of which ours is as a rule but the reflex, is reported steady. No alteration in prices, but sales only 8,000 bales.

The American receipts for the day are 41,000. Quotations a little lower for spot, viz., 11 15-16d., but 10 points higher for March, viz., 12·55.

The weekly returns are also to hand. These show an increase of 70,000 bales in the Liverpool stock. The week's imports had been heavy, viz., 140,000 bales. The trade had only taken 55,000 bales, including 9,000 forwarded, and the exports had mounted up to 16,000 bales, which shows that Continental Spinners have been buying freely in Liverpool, as last week's exports were also large. The stock of Surats in Liverpool is little altered, being 52,000 bales this week against 54,000 last.

The more detailed particulars are as follows :—

	1881.	1880.	1879.
Stock in Liverpool	505,000	453,000	.....
Total supply of all kinds ..	2,720,000	2,504,000	2,350,000
Price of Mid-Uplands	6 9-16d.	6d.
" Fair Dholleras.....	4¼d.	5¼.
Difference..	1 15-16d.	1d.

The American statistics for the week up to date, compared with former years, are as follow :—

Week's Receipts.....	232,000	241,000	237,000
" Exports to G. B.....	60,000	98,000	81,000
" " to Continent.....	65,000	39,000	36,000
Total Receipts since 1st Sept...	2,485,000	2,769,000	2,598,000
" Stock in the Ports	1,010,000	906,000	7,350,000

The question of the extent of the growing crop seems as much a debateable point as ever. The Receipts are now 284,000 less than last year, which is a large amount to make up, but many authorities still think it will be at least as large as last year's. Should this prove to be the case the increased quantity which must now be on the plantations, added to the present increased visible supply, will give about 600,000 American more to work with this year than last, and that the world can take up such a large supply at 6¼ to 6¾d. per lb. seems rather doubtful.

PIECE-GOODS and TWIST are fairly steady, and from second hands large clearances of all kinds of goods still go on. The prospects of improvement in price here, however, from the high rates at home curtailing shipments from England, does not seem in the meantime likely to be realized. The shipments for the month of November are very large to this market, viz., 57 millions plain cottons; 11 millions coloured and printed; 1,600,000 lbs. Twist. To Calcutta, however, the shipments are much more moderate, considering the extent of the market, viz., 63 millions plain, 6½ millions coloured and printed, and 950,000 lbs. Twist.

GOVERNMENT SECURITIES are again quiet and dull. The quotation from England for 4 per cent. has gone back to 83⅜, so that to-day we cannot quote them higher than 101¼. The rate wired from Calcutta is 101⅜.

The general SHARE market is quiet and almost unaltered. The one exception is Dhurumsey Spinning shares, which have again been in active demand, and prices advanced another Rs 20. They are now quoted Rs. 740 to Rs. 745.

EXCHANGE is a shade firmer, at least Banks will now again draw on demand at 1s. 8d. We now quote :—

	Telegraphic.	Demand.	3 months' sight.
Bank Bills	1s. 7 15-16d.	1s. 8d.	1s. 8 5-32d.
Credits	..	..	1s. 8 5-32d.
Documents	..	..	1s. 8¼d.

FREIGHTS are very firm, with rather an upward tendency.

The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1881.

ON a previous occasion we have noticed briefly the steps by which the Government of India hope to provide for the education of such European and Eurasian children as are at present kept from school by the poverty or neglect of their parents. In our own Presidency the class in question is so small in number that the local Government, after careful inquiry, has felt that no special provision need be made for them. The case of Europeans above the indigent class is one with regard to which, as has been intimated, there is a considerable divergence of view between the two Governments. What is the duty of the State towards European children growing up in a station where there are so few European families that the ordinary law of supply and demand, with the additional stimulus of the existing grant-in-aid rules, has not so far provided a day school? On this point the mind of the Government of India may best be learned from the practical decision at which they have arrived, namely, that a school for European children only should be set on foot, at the cost of the State, in all stations where an average daily attendance of twelve children can be got together. The Supreme Government does not, because for want of funds it obviously cannot, make this decision an order binding at once on local administrations. It will be for the local Government to select the stations which are to be first favoured, beginning with those which have the greatest number of children and are furthest from any existing suitable school. But it is the desire of the Governor-General in Council that eventually there shall be a school heavily subsidised, if that be indispensable, for every such cluster of twelve European children. The number of children of fairly well-to-do European or Eurasian parents educationally uncared for in the Bombay Presidency is estimated by Mr. Jacob in his report at 366 in all, distributed over 55 different places. Of these the Government of Bombay put aside 132, the number at Ahmednagar (28), Hyderabad (30), Sukkur (36), and Sabarmati (38). These children are nearly all the children of employés in the workshops and depôts of the various railway companies. With regard to them the Government think it sufficient as a first step to direct its Railway Department to ascertain what steps the managers of these railways are prepared to take for establishing schools which perhaps ought to have been established before now. It would of course be a mistake to look on railways, guaranteed or otherwise, as institutions at liberty to indulge in benevolent enterprises lying outside of their proper work. But it would not perhaps be difficult to show that the policy which at great cost brings out to this country and maintains workmen to do work which cannot be entrusted to natives of the country, and neglects in whole or in part the families of these workmen, is a mistaken one. The establishment at the sole cost of the railways in question of suitable mechanical schools at the four places cited would in a generation save the companies a great deal more than such a step could possibly cost. We shall hope then to hear that the Railway Boards, to whom we presume reference will have to be made, will take an enlightened view of the matter. And indeed it is only fair to say that what they have already done in the matter is a guarantee that they recognize its importance, and the bearing the subject has on their own prosperity.

There are left 234 children, scattered about in other stations throughout the Presidency. But this number is, we are sorry to say, reduced at one fell swoop by exactly 100 per cent. or more. "The larger half of this number appear to be girls, some of whom could probably receive sufficient education from their parents to fit them for their station in life." We suppose there is no help for this. Government is utterly unable to educate both the girls and the boys, and the boys come first in virtue of a world-old prescriptive title. But we confess that we are sorry for it, and call prominent attention to it in the hope that the minds of the benevolent among us may be stirred to do something for this "larger half" whom Government dismiss with a sigh of relief. It would not cost much to provide for the education of all these girls. A single legacy like that which the Misses Bruce devoted to the indigent girls in Bengal would more than suffice. And it is just possible, though they are only beginning to see it in England, that it is as important for a community that its girls should be educated as it is that its high schools and colleges for boys should flourish. We could wish, also, that the girls had been dismissed without the superfluous description of the education, or want of education, to which they are consigned as being sufficient for their station in life. There are authorities, we are aware, who look on it as the one proper aim of all education to fill the mind of the ingenuous youth with reverence for things as they are, and a determination that no selfish efforts after agg

H. E. THE GOVERNOR AND LADY FERGUSSON returned to Bombay from Mahableshwar on Saturday.

THE Bombay Volunteers are to have a church parade next Sunday.

THE Maharaja of Jeypore, who is now in Bombay, apparently intends to make the grand tour of India. We see His Highness is expected to visit Calcutta in the course of a month or so, probably in January.

THE Bombay races of February next, judging from the list of entrances (which we have received, but are obliged to hold over for a day because of pressure on our space), promise a continuance of the improvement which has been observable during the last three years. We are to have an opportunity of witnessing the running of such cracks, in their respective classes, as Rupshankar, Young Revenge, Dictator, Express, Sir Frank, Volunteer, Fareed, Epilogue, Kingsley, Armistice, and Sattara. The entries are very numerous, there being no less than 44 horses nominated for the Derby, 40 for H. H. Aga Khan's Purse, 39 for the Merchants' Purse, 27 for the Arabian Cup, 20 each for the Western India Turf Club Cup and the Cowasjee Jehanghir Purse, 18 for the Pony Race, and 17 for the Pony Plate. The unfortunate Chevalier, that was killed at Poona, appears amongst the entries for the Bombay as for the Hyderabad races. By the way, we have not heard that the Poona stewards have done anything towards recouping Mr. Stephens for the very heavy loss he suffered on that occasion through faulty arrangements for keeping a clear course.

THE North-West Provinces crop and weather report for the week ended the 7th inst. states:—No rain. Crops good in parts, but irrigation general, and rain everywhere wanted. Prices on the whole stationary. Fever continues to abate. Sporadic cholera in Gorakhpur, and small-pox in Cawnpore. Cattle-disease disappeared in Allahabad and Jhansi, but continues in Kumaon.

A PRIVATE letter received from Peshawar gives the following particulars relating to the strange mischance by which Major Dixon, R. H. A., was wounded by a sentry:—Major Dixon was returning home from the Artillery mess, and on his way had to pass the house occupied by Colonel Birch, Commanding 35th Native Infantary, over which there was a guard from that regiment. The sentry states he challenged Major Dixon three times, but receiving no reply, fired, and one of the pellets of the buckshot cartridge, with which the sentry's rifle was loaded, hit Major Dixon in the back. The wound was not considered dangerous.

THE Lahore paper hears from Kabul that Abdul Rusul Khan, lately Governor of Jellalabad, has given over charge of the town and district to his brother, Abdul Ghafur Khan, and has left for Kandahar to assume the governorship at that place. The Amir is said to have reached his capital.

AT the last moment a difficulty has arisen in the removal of the head-quarters' offices of the Indus Valley State Railway from Multan to Sukkur. It was arranged that these offices were to be located in spare barracks which the railway authorities wished to be transferred to them. The military authorities demur to this, and have made a condition that the barracks can only be occupied by the railway department on the understanding that they should be vacated within twenty-four hours of their being required again by the military. In the face of this, the removal of the offices has had to be abandoned for the present.

THE Bengal Revenue Board reports that the license-tax was administered during the year 1880-81 under the new Act; and the relief afforded to the poorer classes of persons assessed under the old Act was very great. More than 66,550 persons, with incomes below Rs. 500 a year, were relieved from the burden of this taxation during the year.

A CORRESPONDENT at Rawal Pindee says that considerable discussion has been caused there by Mr. Whymper's estimates of the cost of the Murree railway. Fifteen lakhs is supposed, by many people at least, to be far too small a sum for the work.

MR. CHARLES CROSTHWAITE, who arrived by the last mail, will, the Pioneer says, at once take his seat as a member of the Legislative Council.

CAPTAIN H. DOVE, Royal Engineers, who is at home on furlough, has exchanged from the Indian to the Imperial establishment.

THE Indian Spectator gives a detail or two about a scheme familiar to our readers:—"As the Bombay Gazette said the other day, Mr. Wedderburn's scheme of an Agricultural Bank is now in the hands of the Honourable Mr. Mandlik, who has seen enough in it to undertake to prepare a Draft Bill for the Legislative Council and to communicate with Government in order to ascertain in what way they are willing to support the scheme. Mr. Mandlik's own idea is, we believe, to proceed upon the principle of the Debenture Acts in operation. We should consider these about the best models. Government are not going to be asked for any pecuniary aid, which is certainly the wisest arrangement. The operations of the first experiment are, we learn, to be confined to Ahmednagar taluka alone, with, of course, a central hold at Bombay. Our friends must, on no account, forego this latter condition. In fact, they must despise no precaution that may obviate failure. Many good men have set their hearts upon the success of Mr. Wedderburn's scheme, which has in it the germs of the ryot's regeneration."

ON the same subject the Statesman writes:—We think we may look for success, as the promoters are leaning on no one for help, but only ask the Government to afford them facilities for making recoveries from defaulters. If these gentlemen go about the business in a proper spirit, they will confer a vast amount of good on the district, and set an example which will, we feel sure, soon be widely followed; but it is just possible that the desire to make good returns may over-ride what ought to be the true aim, viz., to benefit the cultivators. For this reason, we trust that Government, in exchange for giving them exceptional facilities to recover advances from defaulters, will impose sundry conditions on the corporation. Of these, we would here only indicate one, which we regard as imperative, if the scheme is to justify its inception. This is, that six per cent. simple interest must be the maximum charge made on advances. A native contemporary, noticing this scheme, says: "This is just the way we can show to our rulers that we are in earnest, and fit for business." Exactly; there is more earnestness in such a movement than in legions of talkative committees and leagues of tiresome memorials.

THE cholera wave which lately swept over Western India with such disastrous effects has passed on to the Madras Presidency, and is causing a heavy mortality in some districts. The Madras Times hears from Combaconum that "up to Saturday last (3rd instant) 65 cases of cholera were reported in the town of Combaconum, Tanjore district, of which about a third proved fatal. There was only one case admitted into hospital, and that patient recovered." Trichinopoly the same paper has news that while "cholera continues to abate in the town it has penetrated into the interior of the district. The localities in which it prevails most in the town are Wooriore, Poottoor, Varaganary, and the Central Jail. The cases reported from the 24th October to 6th inst. were above 1,000, of which 500 proved fatal."

Apropos of Cook's Indian tours, the Indian Mirror writes:—Although these tours are to be organised for the special benefit of European travellers, we do not think that the Messrs. Cook will object to allow native noblemen and gentlemen wishing to join any party, or to form subsidiary sets. It will only be necessary to advise the firm of the necessity of making special arrangements for the accommodation and food of native noblemen and gentlemen at the several halting places where the course of the tours is to be temporarily broken.

A CORRESPONDENT writes to the Civil and Military Gazette:—In view of the influx of visitors to Lahore during the Exhibition time, I earnestly advise them to make arrangements not to die in this station, as dying and being buried here is a very expensive business. A box with a little shell over it costs Rs. 100. The Government fee for dying is Rs. 16, and the grave, which contains about fifty feet of the poorest masonry, costs Rs. 32. If a monument is to be erected above the grave the Government charge Rs. 32 for permitting it to be put up. It is true that if you permit yourself to be buried as a pauper, the expense is not so great; but people do not like this stigma on their dead relatives. Nor can I see any necessity for it. I want to know what is the expense of burying any respectable Mahomedan in Lahore. What is the Government fee for the grave? What is the cost for the brick-work? Does Government charge a fee for the monument? Does the Moulvi get a commission on deaths? May I not bury my own child, or my own wife, in my own compound, and build what I like over them? Why, in fact, should a Government which all our lives taxes us for daring to exercise a trade or profession even hunt our bodies on their way to the grave?

Apropos of the tramway extension to Grant-road, the Bombay Guardian writes:—The tramway in India is combining with other agencies to bring about a condition of things unfavorable to the perpetuation of caste. Men are shaken together in the tram-car, in a fashion that effectually disposes of the righteousness that consists in holding aloof from others. Not long ago we saw a Hindu in a tram-car fearfully agitated by the sight of a low-caste man entering the car; he cried out and gesticulated as though some wild beast were approaching him. All in vain. He could not hinder the despised creature from entering and sitting down besides him. Of course this is very distressing to men who imagine that purity consists in caste observance; but until they get this mock purity brushed away, they will not be likely to find out the true righteousness.

A DRAWING-ROOM was held at Government House, Calcutta, on Tuesday night. The usual arrangements for the accommodation of those who had the privilege of private entree were well carried out, while for the public entree—a much larger number of course—everything was so arranged that a crush was avoided. Assembled in the throne-room, prior to the arrival of their Excellencies, were General Sir Donald Stewart, Brigadier-General Hughes, the Members of the Viceregal Council, the Members of the Bengal Legislative Council, the Judges of the High Court, and the leading clergy. The National Anthem announced the arrival of their Excellencies. The Viceroy wore the riband and star of the order of the Garter, as well as the Star of India and Order of the Indian Empire. The Marchioness wore a coronet of diamonds, with a veil and a dress of grey satin with train. With their Excellencies were Captain Lord W. Beresford, V.C., Military Secretary; Captain E. L. S. Brett, Officiating Private Secretary; Mr. Panioty, Assistant Private Secretary; Captains Muir and Durand, A.-D.-C.s; Colonel Fergus Graham, Honorary A.-D.-C; and Dr. Anderson, C.I.E.

WE (Englishman) understand that there is a probability of the vacancy in the establishment of the Quarter-Master General's Department occasioned by the death of the late Lieutenant-Colonel R. Kennedy not being filled up, the department in fact being reduced by one Deputy Assistant. The name of Captain C. J. Fulford, who is at present officiating at Bareli, was submitted to Government for the vacancy, but it has not been confirmed. The Gwalior District, it is presumed, will be the one selected for abolition, the duties of the Quarter-Master General's Department being transferred to the Deputy Assistant Adjutant-General, as was done with the Sagar District a year or so ago.

THE Indian Mirror:—It affords us matter for heartfelt rejoicing that the custom of widow-marriage among Hindus is fast taking root, deep and wide, in most parts of India, where, a few years ago, the very idea of such a thing was hooted at, as tantamount to apostacy from our ancestral religion, or as the first step towards our denationalisation. But times have changed, and we have changed with the times. A healthier spirit of right and duty is growing up among our countrymen with the more general diffusion of education, and with the declining influence of traditional, but unreasonable, prejudices. In Bombay, in Bengal, and in the Punjab especially, the number of widow-marriages is becoming yearly larger. Madras, though comparatively behindhand of the other presidencies and provinces, has also begun to show signs of stirring in the same direction. As intelligence spreads over a wider area, the good sense of the races professing and practising the Hindu religion will convince them of the injustice and unnatural cruelty of the practice which, by excluding young widows from the privilege of marriage, has hitherto been attended with such demoralising results. We hope, therefore, that the day will soon come when widow marriage will be a recognised institution among Hindus. The signs of the times are cheering, and indicative of the fast approach of a reform which will, in our opinion, operate to purify and raise the tone of native society.

THE Amrita Bazar Patrika says:—If the Indians had been permitted to revive their own manufactures destroyed by Manchester, India might have been less poor and the finances of the country in a more prosperous condition. The manufactures could have given occupation to one-tenth of the entire population; relieved land of its burden; mitigated the horrors of famines and epidemic diseases; multiplied railways in the land, and saved us the necessity of such a large standing and costly army; maintained thousands of the discontented educated young men who are pining for employment, and sighing for a native rule. Manchester is bringing its ruin upon itself. The Government, however willing, has not the power to help the people. Under such circumstances the people will suffer for a time, but not for ever. The remedy lies in the hands of the people. India must cease to purchase clothes manufactured in a foreign country. The time is come for such a combination. The combination may not be universal; we may not bring within its range the half-civilized people of India. But the time is come when a strong combination could be made with hopes of success in the more advanced provinces of India. It is for the Bombay people to take the lead in the matter. The Bombay millowners have derived large profits of late; they must disgorge some of them at this juncture. Let delegates be sent to all the important cities of India. We are persuaded that it will require no, or very little, pressure to induce one to forswear foreign manufactures. Let pamphlets be printed in all the languages of India, and distributed all over the country. Let the zemindars be asked to interdict foreign manufactures from the country marts. Let efforts be made to outcaste the trader who deals in foreign manufactures. It is a pity that Morarji Gokuldas is no more!

THE Englishman:—Since we last wrote on this subject (the Jessor Municipality and Mr. O. Donnell's case) we have discovered the real origin of the whole imbroglio. It appears that in the middle of last March Mr. de Larpent, the Examiner of Public Accounts, visited Jessor and audited the Municipal accounts. He reported in the middle of April that he found the Municipal finances solvent and generally satisfactory, but he thought that a better system of accounts—in fact, the complex system lately introduced into Calcutta—should be employed. He also found three tax-collectors, who all collected rates over the whole town. He pointed out the danger of embezzlement from this arrangement, and advised the division of the town into three wards. It would appear that, immediately on the receipt of Mr. de Larpent's report, Mr. O'Donnell proceeded to give it effect, but unfortunately the doing so necessitated the withdrawal of the Municipal establishment from regular collections. In fact, the collection of taxes was stopped for about three weeks. The Municipality having some Rs. 1,600 to its account in the treasury, this sum was largely drawn on, and, when Mr. Barton returned from camp in the middle of May, the balance had run very low. The District Magistrate rushed to the opinion that Mr. O'Donnell had let the Municipality run into bankruptcy, and instead of commending his prompt reform of the accounts, wrote to the Commissioner to censure him.

THE Bombay Guardian:—The Salvation Army are proposing to have a World-centre Salvation Temple in London. The building of the London Orphan Asylum, occupying two acres of ground in Lower Clapton, is offered to them for the comparatively low sum of £15,000, and if the money be promptly subscribed, they will purchase it, giving it the designation of "National Barracks and Congress Hall." The great quadrangle, when floored, seated, and roofed, will make a hall capable of containing 4,700 persons. The building is also to be used for the training of officers, one wing being for men, the other for women. The entire expense will be £20,000. Thirteen of the most distinguished Wesleyan ministers, such men as Geo. Osborn, J. H. Rigg, Benjamin Gregory, E. E. Jenkins, Wm. Arthur, Wm. McArthur, A. MacAulay, and T. P. Bunting, have come forward to express their sympathy with the Salvation Army movement, and their best wishes for the Clapton institution project They say:—There may be, and, in point of fact, there are, serious differences of opinion as to some of the means employed by the Salvation Army, and as to the ultimate results of its labours; but, if from this Clapton institution there go forth, within the next five years, a thousand young men and women, such as the Salvation Army officers have proved themselves to be, further consideration does the matter require? Let us testify that unhesitating and immediate sympathy which the circumstances require.

SHAMAVAHOO vs. DWARKADAS VUSSONJEE AND OTHERS.

Hearn, Cleveland, and Little, appeared for the Advocate-General; and Mr. Lang, instructed by Messrs. Hore, Conroy, and Brown, for the Bank of Bombay. Shamavahoo was not represented on the motion. All the parties consenting, his lordship passed an order in effect as follows:—That the Accountant-General of the court do, upon the execution of the trust deed of the Goculdas Tejpall charities, endorse and assign to the trustees the Government promissory notes for Rs. 8,36,000, which represent the principal fund of the charities, and deposit them in the Bank of Bombay; and that they should be held by the bank as a permanent deposit, with liberty to apply. That the Bank shall pay to the trustees the dividends and interest accruing due on the notes. That the officiating trustees (to be mentioned by name in the order) are restrained from withdrawing, and the Bank of Bombay from delivering over, any portion of the fund without the order of the court. That the trustees should pay the costs of all the parties to these proceedings, as well as of the Bank of Bombay and the officiating trustees, out of the fund of the charities.

A CLAIM FOR TWENTY-SEVEN LAKHS OF RUPEES.

CHARLES AGNEW TURNER vs. KESSOWJEE NAIK.

THIS suit is brought by the plaintiff, the Official Assignee at Bombay, and assignee of the estate and effects of the late firm of Nursey Kessowjee and Co., to recover from the defendant the sum of Rs. 27,21,411-12-11, with interest from the 13th January, 1879, at 9 per cent. per annum. Mr. Jardine and Mr. Russell, instructed by Messrs. Craigie, Lynch, and Owen, appeared for the plaintiff; and the Advocate-General, Mr. Lang, and Mr. Inverarity, instructed by Messrs. Hearn, Cleveland, and Little, for the defendant.

Munmohundas Pragjee, the first witness for the plaintiff, was further examined by Mr. Jardine as to items in the account books of the defendant with regard to the sale of Alexandra, Mazagon, and Frere Companies' shares, which had been mortgaged by Nursey Kessowjee and Co. for the defendant, and as to other items which were disputed. There were speculations carried on by the firm in opium in 1931 and 1932. There was an entry of the profits of three transactions. From that and from other items, witness said that the transactions were carried on in the name of the firm in conjunction with Dhurumsey Poonjabhoy. These profits were credited to the defendant.

Mr. Inverarity objected to these old matters being gone into.

Mr. Jardine said the opium transactions were relevant, as showing the relations between the defendant and the firm. When the speculations resulted in a profit, the defendant took them; and when in a loss, the firm took it. The defendant had such an influence over the firm as to induce the latter to make fraudulent transfers.

The judge held that general evidence of it might be given.

The witness continued.—This is an entry of another opium transaction in 1931, in which the profit was Rs. 62,723, one-half of which was credited to the defendant, and the other half to Dhurumsey Poonjabhoy. That is the account the balance of which is entered in the firm's schedule as due from Congress Hall." The great quadrangle, when floored, seated, and roofed, will make a hall capable of containing 4,700 persons. The building is also to be used for the training of officers, one wing being for men, the other for women. The entire expense will be £20,000. Thirteen of the most distinguished Wesleyan ministers, such men as Geo. Osborn, J. H. Rigg, Benjamin Gregory, E. E. Jenkins, Wm. Arthur, Wm. McArthur, A. MacAulay, and T. P. Let us testify that unhesitating and immediate sympathy which the circumstances require.

APPEAL COURT.—DECEMBER 10.

(Before the Hon'ble the CHIEF JUSTICE and the Hon'ble Mr. Justice MELVILL.)

THE ASSETS OF THE ALLIANCE BANK OF BOMBAY.

MUNCHERSHAW BEZONJEE vs. CASSUMBHOY DHURUMSEY AND OTHERS.

AN appeal was made in this suit by one of the defendants, Cassumbhoy, from the decision of the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Bayley, who delivered judgment on the 29th April last. The hearing commenced on Friday. The Hon'ble Mr. Marriott and Mr. Latham, instructed by Mr. Macfarlane, appeared for the appellant Cassumbhoy Dhurumsey; Mr. Lang and Mr. Inverarity, instructed by Messrs. Smith and Frere, appeared for Rahimbhoy Hubibhoy, one of the respondents; and Mr. Starling and Mr. Budroodin, instructed by Messrs. Cumroodin and Dayabhoy, for the other respondent, Munchershaw Bezonjee.

The facts of the case appear to be briefly these. In 1868 the plaintiff and respondent (Munchershaw Bezonjee) purchased the assets of the Alliance Bank of Bombay on the terms that he should pay the then existing and future debts of the bank, and the cost of continuing the liquidation thereof; also paying the shareholders Rs. 6-8 per share. In May, 1868, the voluntary liquidators of the bank assigned all the assets to the plaintiff, who was afterwards appointed official liquidator. Claims had been made upon the plaintiff as such liquidator and purchaser of the assets, and in the suit decided by Mr. Justice Bayley he stated that he had no beneficial interest whatever in the purchase, but had acted as the nominee and trustee of Cassumbhoy Dhurumsey, Rahimbhoy Hubibhoy, and others (who were defendants in that suit), and that the assignment of the assets of the bank was made to him only as such nominee. He therefore claimed to be indemnified by the defendant against all claims arising out of the assignment.

Mr. Justice Bayley, after having gone into the case, held that the plaintiff Munchershaw Bezonjee had no claim against Rahimbhoy Hubibhoy or any other persons, and he must look entirely to Cassumbhoy. His lordship did not think that Ahmedbhoy Hubibhoy or Rahimbhoy Hubibhoy had actual notice of the assignment, and he entertained great doubt as to whether Ahmedbhoy or Rahimbhoy had constructive notice of the terms of the deed. A decree was given for the plaintiff against Cassumbhoy Dhurumsey, and an account was directed to be taken of all the sums for which the plaintiff was liable; and an account also of all the sums received and expended by plaintiff or Cassumbhoy in and about the transaction of the purchase of the assets. It was declared that the plaintiff had acted solely as the trustee or nominee of Cassumbhoy in the purchase of the assets.

From the above decision an appeal was made by Cassumbhoy Dhurumsey, among others, on the following grounds:—That the learned judge ought to have held that the plaintiff acted in the purchase of the assets of the Alliance Bank as the trustee and nominee of the defendants Cassumbhoy and Rahimbhoy Hubibhoy, and not of the former alone; that the plaintiff acted as such trustee and nominee for Rahimbhoy to the extent of 5-16th of the purchase, and was consequently entitled to be indemnified by him to that extent against the debts and liabilities of the company; that the learned judge having held that Rahimbhoy was a partner in the purchase of the assets to the extent of 5-16th, it was contrary to equity and good conscience to hold that he was not liable to contribute in that proportion to the debts and liabilities of the bank; that Rahimbhoy had express notice of the assignment of the 1st May, 1868; and that in any case Rahimbhoy was liable to indemnify the plaintiff to the extent of 5 annas in the rupee, and the appellant Cassumbhoy to the extent of 11 annas in the rupee, and no more.

The arguments of counsel were heard during the day, but they were not finished when the court adjourned until 3 p.m. on Monday, the 12th instant.
